Having a hard time figuring out which loan is best for you?
Interest rates and repayment terms will vary by lender and will depend on your credit score. You can find a great calculator at http://www.finaid.org/calculators/loandiscountanalyzer.phtml that will allow you to compute the various terms set by each lender, using their listed interest rate, fees, and repayment period. Remember that private lenders typically will not provide an interest rate offer until after you have applied for the loan.

Where can I find up-to-date interest rate information?
Private loans have a variable interest rate that is usually tied to LIBOR or the prime rate. You can find information about LIBOR and prime which can be helpful when trying to determine potential interest rates for private loans at www.bankrate.com/cbsmw/ratehm.asp.
